Pertinent Topics Discussed by H.C.

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett told the Ottawa Presbytery of the United Church that he still holds to the old-fashioned idea that we cannot afford to give parliamentary sanction to gambling. He was arguing that national sweepstakes would be disastrous. It is not a point on which one can afford to be dogmatic. We did give parliamentary sanction to bingo, and some provinces gave legislative sanction to betting at horse races and they participated in the pari-mutuel profits. Mr. Bennett himself was accused by his opponents a few years ago of having secured parliamentary sanction to gamble in wheat. His accusers are doing the same now in a modified degree. The point at issue is only where the line should be drawn.

France and Russia were directly committed, and the League of Nations was in session, yet it was Britain who had to take the lead and it is Chamberlain who will have to take the blame and praise for the outcome. He is getting both in fluctuating volume. If he preserves peace, he will be accused of doing so at the expense of Czechoslovakia. If he fails it will, however, be at the expense of the whole world. Czechoslovakia would never have peace while the German ulcer remained. It will be well rid of the infected fringe, but it fears other operations, for it is made up of several ethnic groups, though, so far, only the German group is troublesome.

Influential newspapers like the New York Times and the Toronto Globe and Mail couple their criticism of Mr. Chamberlain with the admission that they have no right to criticize, seeing that their own governments are pursuing a stand-off instead of a stand-by policy.

Mr. King usually knows when to speak and when not and knows, too, what to say when he is not saying anything. Influential friends embarrassed him greatly by insisting he declare Canada behind or with Britain in the crisis, but he said nothing. Their insistence was peculiarly embarrassing because Australia and New Zealand had so declared themselves. He is personally against participation and many of his followers in the House are also. Unofficially it

Marshall - Heywood

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Heywood of High River was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, October 1, when their daughter Jean, was united in marriage with Allen Porter Marshall of Trail, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Marshall of Vulcan. The bridal party assembled under an arch of ferns, intertwined autumn leaves, sweet peas and gladioli, with Rev. A. H. Rowe performing the ceremony. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a navy taffeta dress with doll hat, and carrying a bouquet of talliesman roses and sweet peas. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Carol Marshall of Vulcan, who wore a French blue dress, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. Thomas D. Heywood acted as best man. Autumn flowers were used in house decorations and the bride's table from which the buffet supper was served, was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake on either side of which were tall mauve tapers, and bowls of mauve sweet peas. The guests numbering twenty-six, were immediate relatives of both families, and included a number from Vulcan and Calgary, as well as High River. Following a honeymoon at mountain resorts, the young people will make their home at Trail. For going away the bride wore a navy coat over navy dress, with matching accessories.

Both young people spent their childhood and youth in this district, the bride being a native of High River and the groom of Vulcan. They have a host of friends all of whom extend best wishes for their happiness. The bride is a talented pianist. Amongst hostesses who entertained in her honor prior to her marriage were Mrs. Errett King, Mrs. Jim Marshall and Mrs. Matlock of Vulcan; Mrs. Claude Mills, Mrs. H. F. MacDonald, Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Miss Hanna Christoferson and Miss Mary Anne Moore of High River.

NEXT MONDAY IS THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving Day will be observed in Canada this year on Monday, October 10th, and all local places of business will be closed.

Closing of stores on Wednesday afternoons and at 10 p.m. on Saturdays is not compulsory until November 1st, although the grocery stores are observing the Wednesday half-holiday this month. With Monday a public holiday, all places of business will be open all day Wednesday.

Inch of Rain is Recorded Monday

After a month of perfect fall weather the temperature lowered Sunday night and rain started to fall Monday morning, continuing all through the day. The Searle Grain Co. recorded the day's rainfall as exactly one inch and, generally speaking, the moisture was very welcome. Although the odd day or so of threshing remains to be done, it is reported that summerfallow was very dry and badly in need of rain. It is hoped that several more good rains are experienced before freeze-up, as fall moisture to date has not amounted to much.

On Tuesday no rain fell but colder weather continued. A week of warm weather will allow all harvesting operations in this district to be finished. A good movement of grain to the elevators is still taking place but the big rush is over.

Annual Meeting of Christian Endeavor

The Christian Endeavor of the Church of Christ held their annual meeting for the election of officers at the home of Mrs. Wismer, Friday, Sept. 30th.

Harry Wismer was elected president, Wilma Wismer, vice-president and Hughena Warden, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Hansell will continue in his office as honorary president.

The Christian Endeavor meetings will begin at nine o'clock sharp every Sunday night after the evening service. Everyone is welcome to attend. Former members of the group who are now attending the Alberta Bible College in Calgary are William Weale, B. Jensen, Lloyd Jones, Marvel Dunbar, Harriet Gonyea and Doris Redlund.

Hollister-McDougall Nuptials at Champion

A quiet but interesting wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McDougall, Champion, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1st, when their youngest daughter, Elsey Janet, became the bride of Mr. Calvin Hollister of Vulcan, youngest son of Mr. E. M. Hollister of Calgary. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Roscoe Hollister, Calgary, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was smart in a grey tailored suit with white accessories and carried a bouquet of red talliesman roses. Miss Hazel McDougall, sister of the bride, was her attendant and wore a French blue tailored suit. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Mr. Stephen Cowgill of Champion attended the bridegroom.

Only immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Hollister later left for a motor trip through the States.

The Sunday evening service at the Reid Hill Baptist Church will in future commence at 7.30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m.

In United States the government is bonussing Kansas farmers to the amount of $15,000,000 for soil conservation and crop control. They will get $37,000,000 next year if they cut 6,200,000 wheat acres. This repays farmers for tariff bonuses to secondary industries.—Lethbridge Herald.

Brief Items of Local Interest

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jones were Banff visitors on Sunday.

Mrs. B. Graham, Mrs. G. Phillips and Miss Dale Graham were Calgary visitors the first of the week.

Mrs. Ethel Ferguson and daughter Mrs. Emil Horne were Calgary visitors recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzpatrick, accompanied by Eileen and Charlie, left Tuesday for California, where they will spend several months.

Misses Betty Ottewill and Kathleen Craig were joint hostesses at the latter's home on Thursday of last week, when a handkerchief shower was held in honor of Miss Fitzpatrick. Fourteen school friends attended.

Word has been received here of the passing of Frank Kothlow in Vancouver on Sept. 29, at the age of 74 years. Mr. Kothlow was a pioneer of the Vulcan district, where he farmed for many years before retiring to Vancouver. He is survived by his wife three daughters and five sons.

In compliment to Miss Blanche McFall, whose marriage takes place this month, a miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Ben Dann on Thursday last. Sixty guests gathered to wish the bride-to-be every happiness in the coming years. Many useful and beautiful gifts were presented to Miss McFall, for which she expressed many thanks. Games and contests were enjoyed and lunch served by Mrs. Dann, Mrs. B. D. Lockhart, Mrs. Engen, Mrs. F. Davis and Mrs. McRoberts concluded a very pleasant afternoon.

Young People Married at Calgary

FLETCHER — FITZPATRICK
A quiet wedding of local interest took place in Calgary on Friday, Sept. 30th, when Lorraine Fitzpatrick, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzpatrick of Vulcan, was united in marriage to William Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher of Brant. Rev. George Kerby officiated and the young couple left for California.

LOVE — GONYEA
A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Gonyea at 113-22nd Ave., N.E., Calgary, recently, when Althea Winona Gonyea, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gonyea, late of Vulcan, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman H. Love, youngest son of Mr. John Love.

The bride, attired in a pretty dark blue dress, carried a bouquet of white carnations and was attended by the sister of the groom, Miss Lena Love. The groom was attended by Mr. Robert Gonyea, brother of the bride. The wedding was followed by a private reception, which was limited to the family and immediate friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Gonyea, Marie, Robert, Harriet, David, Elizabeth and Bruce Gonyea; Mrs. Jack Sousa, Miss Lena Love, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hill of Alberta Bible College, Vona Verel Hill, David H. Rees, William C. Rees and Miss Mildred Hall.

Funeral Services For George Gaunt

Funeral services for George Gaunt, who died suddenly on Wednesday, Sept. 28th, were held at the Canadian Legion on Friday, Sept. 30th. Interment was made in the Vulcan cemetery, with joint graveside services by the Canadian Legion and the B.P.O. Elks. Mr. Gaunt was a valued member of both organizations. He was a resident in this district for many years and will be greatly missed by the many friends he made.

Besides his wife, he is survived by relatives in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Flynn were High River visitors over the week-end.

Mrs. Herman Spanke was a Lethbridge visitor the first of the week.

Miss Evelyn Phillips has left for Calgary where she will train at the Jean Carroll School of Beauty Culture.

Friends of Mr. B. Lommatzsch will regret to learn that he is a patient in the Holy Cross hospital, where he recently underwent an operation.

Major Leduc of Armstrong, B.C., is visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Simington and Mr. and Mrs. R. Simington. Major Leduc and Rob served overseas together.

K. Roy McLean, Optometrist and Optician, 209-10 Southam Bldg., Calgary, will in future make two trips monthly to Vulcan. Mr. McLean will be at the King Drug Store on Monday, Oct. 17th, in the afternoon and evening.

Lou Darby and his Hawaiians will make their first appearance at a Vulcan dance this Friday, Oct. 7th, when they will supply the music for a big dance to be held in the arena on the large, new dance floor. The distinctive music of the Hawaiians is always popular and a large crowd is expected on Friday night. The dance is sponsored by the Elks.

Two fires occurred in the Buffalo Hills district recently. At the farm of Hurst Goldthorpe, a blacksmith shop and a bunk off were total losses when an overheated forge ignited the shop. The home of W. Parrish was recently burned to the ground and the contents, with the exception of some clothing and a radio, were lost. An effort was made to save a sum of money that was in the house but the attempt proved futile.

Advocate Receives Service Diploma

Award From Pulitzer Prize Committee in Recognition of Campaign for Press Freedom

Last spring the trustees of Columbia University fund, awarded a special Pulitzer prize to the newspapers of Alberta for their efforts to maintain the freedom of the press against Government domination. The Edmonton Journal received a special "public service" award in the form of a bronze plaque "for leadership in the defence of freedom of the press in Alberta." All other newspapers of Alberta participating in the struggle were awarded engraved certificates.

The Vulcan Advocate received its diploma recently. It carries the signature of Nicholas S. Butler, and reads:

"The Trustees of the Columbia University in the City of New York.

"To all persons to whom these presents may come, Greeting.

"Be it known that The Vulcan Advocate has been awarded recognition for its co-operation with The Edmonton Journal, recipient of a special Pulitzer prize for distinguished public service in 1937, in accordance with the provisions of the statutes of the University governing such award.

"In witness whereof we have caused this diploma to be signed by the president of the University and our corporate seal to be hereto affixed in the City of New York, on the first year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-eight.

Hospital Notes

The superintendent wishes to extend thanks to the St. John's Anglican Church for fruit sent as a Thanksgiving gift; to Mrs. Bittorf for vegetables and to the Vulcan Elks for their generous donations of fruit and vegetables from the carnival.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collison are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Oct. 2nd.

Elks' Carnival Very Successful; Large Crowd Attends

Grand Prize Won by J. Galbraith, Brooks; Prize List Agricultural Show

The Elks' hospital fund will benefit to a considerable extent as a result of the success of the big three-day carnival sponsored by the B.P.O.E. last week-end. Under the able management of Floyd Atkinson, everything ran smoothly and receipts were far above expectations. All games received a big play, with many blankets, dolls, Charlie McCarthy's, hams and rugs being given away. The carnival was well patronized by local people and drew fun-seekers from such outside points as Champion, Carmangay, Staveland, Milo, Nanton, Blackie, Brant Ensign and Turner Valley.

The excellence of the new dance floor was the subject of much favorable comment and dancers were all pleased with the music supplied by Len Davis and his orchestra.

The grand prize, choice of an Electrolux or General Electric refrigerator, was won by Mr. J. Galbraith of Brooks, Alta. Many valuable door prizes were given away each night and, although a complete list of the winners is not available, local patrons of the carnival won the majority of the door prizes, which included waffle irons, coffee pots, rugs, blankets, shawls, cases of canned goods, etc.

Why Not Open the Churches Oftener? Small Town Abstraction; Titles Tickle Colonialists; Buzzard-Cholmondeley in Distress

From High River Eye Opener
October 24, 1903

The church has many glaring inconsistencies just like civilization. They send missionaries out to China to convert the Chinks and try to get them into the kingdom of heaven, but they won't let 'em into this country.

Theatres are full to overflowing in cities six nights in the week, and people pay well for their seats. The churches are open one day in the week, and although a nickel will see the vilest sinner through, the attendance is light and perfunctory. Perhaps it is because the churches are open for business only for two or three hours a week, and stand deserted and forlorn for the balance of the seven days.

"My dear," asked the young High River rancher of his city bride, "would you mind sewing on a button?"

"Say, you slab-sided coffee cooler," she replied as she turned down the leaf in Marie Corelli's latest, "I want you to understand that when you married me, you married a typewriter not a sewing machine."

A curious habit that is of walking with the head down as if in contemplation. It is a trick soon acquired in a small burg—almost every man does it—and is due to there being practically no passersby to look at, and few store windows to gaze into. You see a man moseying along with eyes bent toward the ground apparently in mental abstraction. His profound thoughtfulness gives the impression that he is studying Chamberlain's tariff problem. But he isn't. He is only wondering if it is worth while to walk as far as the hotel and try to stick the bartender.

For fast race horses and swift polo players, High River stands pre-eminent in the West. Here indeed is a state of splendid isolation.

The difference between American and English politics is shown by Mr. Chamberlain having the gout. Over in the States a man who expected to appeal to the masses and to suggest extra taxes on their grubbie wouldn't dare to have gout.

An editor down in Nicaragua has been given fifty lashes, fined $5000, banished and his paper press smashed for criticizing too severely. Nicaragua has the unqualified approval of the High River bon ton.

The sequel to the Alaskan boundary commission will be that Clifford Sifton will soon burst on our dazzled vision as Sir Clifford. He is entitled to the honor just as much as was Hibbert Tupper after his work on the Behring sea commission. Knighthoods are an easy way of placating Canadians. These honors cost the British government nothing and tickle colonialists all up the back.

Buzzard-Cholmondeley Writes Home

This is the first of a series of letters from a badly made son to his father in England:

Peace River, N.W.T.
The Fall, 1902

Dear Father:-

As you have not heard from me for some ten years, I thought a line might be of interest, showing that I am alive and well. I often think of dear old Shockingham Hall, and the splendid shooting. I notice in a copy of the Times a couple of years ago, that my favorite sister Violet had married the Earl of Pockington. I remember Pockington well. He was my fag at Eton and not half a bad chap. There should be some fine shooting on his estate. The only shooting I have done out here of late has been at crabs, a different species of game from grouse or partridge and very wild.

Now about things in this country. The few thousand pounds you gave me to start farming in Manitoba was duly invested in a farm. In my labors I had several assistants, Hi Walker, Joe Seagram, Johnnie Dewar and Benny Dikteen, helpers of exceptional strength and fiery temper, who soon became my masters. So it was not long till I had no farm. I then quit farming and went tending bar for a hotelkeeper in a neighboring village, whose prosperity dawned with the hour of my arrival.

The love of liquor which I have so faithfully inherited from yourself, resulted in my getting the bounce as a bartender. So I packed my things in an envelope and came West by blind baggage to start cowpunching. Lost all my wages in one disastrous flurry of poker. After a long, hard winter as cookee in a lumber camp, I struck for Peace River.

I am married to a halfbreed and have three ornery, copper-colored, Buzzard-Cholmondeley-nosed brats. We are all coming home to visit you at Christmas and hope to reach there for your annual house party at the hall. My wife is most anxious to catch a glimpse of English society. The Hall will be quite a pleasant change from the tepees to which she has been accustomed.

If I only had about a thousand pounds just now, I would invest it in cattle, settle down here and forego the pleasure of a trip home. But I do not know where to lay my hands on that amount, so you will probably see us at Christmas.

Your affectionate son,
—Albert Buzzard-Cholmondeley

A Car Is Like a Cat

It is quiet, except for a slow and pleasing purr. Its padded tires are like padded feet. It has powerful eyes that shine at night. And when it is allowed to run wild, it gives an awful screech at the moment before it does its victim to death.

At 25 miles an hour, it is like a pussy-cat. It may scratch you up in an accident, but it isn't likely to kill you. Few fatal accidents occur at low speeds.

At 50 miles an hour, it is not twice but four times as powerful. Like a bobcat, it is quite able to inflict great damage.

At 75 miles an hour, it is not three but nine times as powerful as at 25. Nine times as hard to stop—nine times as hard to turn—nine times as deadly.—Oshawa Times.

BLACKIE NEWS

Two bridge clubs have got away to a good start.

Mr. and Mrs. Kumlin and family visited in Hartell recently.

Hjalmer Johnson is assisting Mr. Ogden in the municipal office.

Recent Calgary visitors were Mrs. Finley, Helen Smith, A. A. Dawes, Mr. Yerxa.

We are glad to see Betty Yerxa back to school after an attack of intestinal flu.

Mr. Pickersgill has taken over his duties as music instructor in the Blackie school.

Miss Charlotte Walker has returned home after spending a few weeks with Mrs. H. Wilderman.

The Tennis Club sponsored a dance last Friday night, music being supplied by Lou Darby. A good time was reported by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Roebuck have returned from their vacation. Edna stayed with Mrs. Yerxa while her parents were away.

The Cub and Scouts have reorganized under the leadership of Mr. Taylor and Rev. Morrison respectively. Both groups went on a hike going in opposite directions. After the boys had eaten their fill of weiners and buns and marshmallows, they played wild games of night stalking and hide-and-go-seek. Darkness added much to the enjoyment.

Not to be outdone by the boys, the Explorers, with their leader, Miss Wheeler, had a hike and a weiner roast. Wilda Yerxa and Vivian Dorrett arranged a treasure hunt. The treasure, a bag of peanuts, was found by Gwen Morrison. We wonder how such little girls can eat so much. Weiners disappeared as if by magic. Full tummies didn't interfere until it was dark. Before going home all sat around the fire singing and toasting marshmallows. Then, tired and dirty, but happy, the Explorers trudged home.

Ray Wellman has accepted a position in an elevator at Lacombe.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Danielson of Waitsburg, Wash., were recent visitors in Blackie.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stier and daughter are visiting in Blackie. Is Jimmie a proud papa?

Rally day and the anniversary of Blackie United Church was celebrated on Sunday, September 25th.

Friends of Mrs. Ricker will be glad to know that she is improving. We were all pleased to see her out enjoying the sun.

Residents of Blackie and district are very pleased to have such splendid picture shows being presented every week. Good crowds are in evidence.

Monte Finley and family are moving into the house recently vacated by the Clingman family. Mr. Harrow is planning on moving the house in which Finley's have been living into High River.

For Diphtheria Inoculations

Preventive Measures Resumed by Health Unit, to Safeguard Little Children

No child need have diphtheria, a disease which was once the terror of early childhood. The very young child is not only more susceptible but is more apt to succumb.

This fall the Foothills Health Unit is resuming its inoculation treatments, and all parents are urged to avail themselves of this service.

The treatments, usually one to three in number, are simple and harmless and quickly given. It takes a few months for the protection to develop.

Six months after the treatment, take the children back to the doctor to find out if they have had enough treatments to make them safe. He can tell this by giving them the Schick test. Be sure to do this. Then you can be certain that your children are safe and that you need never fear diphtheria.

Canadian figures show that mortality from this cause has dropped steadily since the more general preventive treatment, with the 1933 figures showing only two deaths for every 100,000.

If before they are treated (immunized), or before protection has developed, your children show the symptoms described in this pamphlet, call the doctor at once. This is especially important if there is diphtheria in the neighborhood. The doctor will give his curing medicine—antitoxin. A delay of one day in giving this medicine may mean the difference between life and death.

A child who is sick with diphtheria should never get up or sit up until the doctor says it is safe for him to do so, even though he feels better and begs to sit up. If he does not stay

Memorial Window For Banff Church

Inspired by the beauty of the Canadian Rockies, and the sweet tones of the bells of St. George Church, Banff, Alberta, Miss Jessie Van Brunt of Brooklyn, New York, has presented the church with a memorial window which she designed and made herself. The window embodies the idea of the Church bells as angels or God's messengers sending in-spiring invitations to worship. It was placed above the main entrance and is in memory of the late Canon Henry Montgomery, M.A., rector of this church from 1921-24, previously rector of St. Peter's Church, Kingsclear, N.B., and Canon of Christ Church Cathedral in the diocese of Fred-erickton, N.B., also rector of St. Barnabas Church, Calgary. He served in the C.E.F. from 1916-18, being chaplain of No. 14 Canadian Hospital at Eastbourne, England. He died at 75 on July 9, 1929.

Rt. Rev. L. Ralph Sherman, M.A.B. Litt., D.D., Bishop of Calgary, recently dedicated the window.

The bells which inspired Miss Van Brunt were donated by Hon. Robert Brett, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta in 1925, later being dedicated by Rt. Rev. Cyprian Pinkham, D.D., D.C.L., late Bishop of Calgary, in 1927. Rev. Canon Tully Montgomery is the present rector.

Health Service A More Recent Asset

Full Time Health Unit After Seven Years of Operation Sees Pronounced Benefits

One of the most beneficial developments of recent years in this district is the full time service given the large area included in the Foothills Health Unit. Established in July 1934 with Dr. Gordon Saunders as the first head, the venture was experimental, so far as Alberta was concerned. One other unit at Red Deer was also established, and the value of the service has been so impressive, that only economic conditions have prevented the coverage of the province in health units. A third unit has been established at Lacombe this year.

Promoted for the first three years by the Rockefeller Foundation and the province assuming the heavy share of costs, the main charge has now been assumed by the contributing districts, amounting to approximately 35 cts. per capita. Annual operating costs are round $8000 and the staff serves about 17,000 residents of High River, Vulcan, Nanton, Blackie, Brant Cayley and surrounding rural area as well as Turner Valley school district and Parkland—Consolidated school. D. A. Somerville, M.H.O., Miss Sally Ross, R.N., and Miss Marjorie Scarr, R.N., are the full-time staff with Mr. J. C. Mooney, sanitary inspector dividing his time between High River and Red Deer.

Preventive care is an important part of the service, and to this end the children of the district are immunized against smallpox, diphtheria and scarlet fever, while baby and pre-school age clinics are also regular features at various points of the district. Regular examination of school children has resulted in the correction of many defects, and a most valuable phase of the work has been the T.B. clinics which have been extended in the past year to a special inspection of High School students. The introduction of periodic mental clinics has had a significant influence in clearing up difficulties of backward or unadjusted children.

Superintending the health of 3500 school children by regular examination and supervision; control of infectious diseases; checking of epidemics; inspection of water, milk and all food centres on sanitation principles; pre-natal and post-natal advice and care are only a part of the Foothills district service. One of the most important elements is the educational work carried on by addresses to groups of parents and organizations.

In bed long enough, he may have a weak heart for the rest of his life. The two things to remember are: Get the doctor at once, and keep the child in bed long enough.

circulation of informative literature; health talks to school children and so on. In this phase excellent co-operation has been found amongst teachers who incorporate much of the preventive instruction in the school work.

How Money Comes Where It Goes

Figures given out by Finance Minister Dunning show just how heavy a drain taxation in this country is. Of every $100 of revenue collected by the Dominion Government $88.83 comes from taxation, with the sales tax the biggest contributor at $26.72 his figures showed. Income tax provides $23.29 of every $100 collected, customs duties $18.09, excise duties $10.07, manufacturing, importation and stamp tax, etc., $8.25 and other taxes 38 cents. Non-tax revenues provide $11.93 and other receipts $1.24. Of every $100 expended by the Government interest and other charges on the public debt takes the largest single slice—$25.81. Special expenditures like unemployment relief and kindred projects take another $12.92. Government enterprises including the Canadian National Railway deficit $9.45, pensions and treatment for ex-soldiers $10.25. Old age pensions require $5.40, subsidies to provinces $4.00, and the combined government departments $31.82. Civil pensions and superannuations, write-down of assets and capital expenditures account for $1.35.

was explained that parliament alone would decide the issue, but to call parliament would only be to reveal the division that otherwise could only be suspected. After the goading had gone on for some time, Mr. King said what he was expected to say, viz: that he was keeping in touch with the situation and would call parliament when the time was ripe for action.

Mr. King had stated often enough that such is the policy he would pursue. In 1914, Canadians were all of one mind, and the Borden government pledged Canada's participation, called a special session which confirmed the action unanimously. There is not the same unanimity now in parliament or in the country for participation although there is the same unanimity against the aggressor. In 1914 it was the intention of the government to secure the approval of its action in a general election but the vote in the House made that not only unnecessary but undesirable. Mr. King will probably adopt the same course if his proposals meet with considerable opposition in parliament. To submit such an issue to the electorate after this parliament has spoken, can have no result other than confusion and confusion. The government must accept the responsibility of making its recommendation to parliament and parliament must accept the responsibility of accepting or rejecting it. To project the issue into an election campaign would be calamitous.

We suppose people get used to it in time but it would be very wearying to have all the newspapers in this country taking orders from Ottawa as to what news should be published and what suppressed and what editorial opinion should be. It would not be desirable even if Mr. King were always, instead of sometimes, right. Fancy all the newspapers of the United States being under the control of Mr. Roosevelt's Minister of Propaganda! It is unimaginable, yet there are three countries in Europe where the system prevails. Not only that, but by subsidization and free telegraphic "news" they spread their propaganda into other countries. It costs money, but standardizing opinion at home and stirring up trouble abroad is the meat upon which our Caesars feed.

We can well believe that many Germans are relieved at the prospects for peace. The full devastations of war did not reach them in 1914-1918, but lately the citizens of Berlin had to buy gas masks and dark blinds, dreadful portents that this war will be different.

Those German soldiers who survived the late war only to be reviled and spat upon by the rabble in the streets, what do they think of it all? Most of them are too old to fight—but not too old to do war work in the rear, and endure the privations their parents had to endure twenty years ago. How do they relish the prospect of their sons marching gayly bravely to the same fate or the fate that befell others earlier? The youth of Germany is earnestly and wholeheartedly behind Hitler, but not more so than the Kaiser's legions were behind him in 1914. The veteran must have painful memories and misgivings which he must keep to himself or share with his frau. The youth is fired with other ideas and dreams, under the hypnotic influence of their leader who would sacrifice his own sons if he had them.

Psychiatry has a name or two for the Hitler mania with which the whole German nation is now infected. Grandiose notions are curiously mixed with a persecution obsession. It is no slander to say that he is mad. It is generous to say that the man who ordered more than seventy persons to be killed in cold blood one night in June 1934, was not then in his right mind. One of them Roehm, was then as close to him personally and officially, as Goering is now. It is pretty tough that respectable people like Neville Chamberlain have to deal with him, but when a nation of seventy-five million people acknowledge him as their leader, he is the man with whom respectable statesmen have to deal.

We can't figure out why people should marvel that Chamberlain would demean himself to the extent of flying, for the first time in his life, to beg of Hitler to do certain things. We have gone the limit ourselves in the same way as Chamberlain did. We have begged, besought, implored one man in particular to do some things for us. We never of course, flew any distance in this connection but we

Commercial Printing

Do not try to economize on necessary expenses. Neatly printed business stationery is just as important to your business as any other of your necessary expenses, and it is poor economy to do without it. Blank writing paper and forms on which your name is written in with ink do not raise the prestige of your business. And if it's economy that you want, see us and find that our prices are most reasonable.

The Alaskan Boundary
It was stated that important communications are passing between the Imperial and Canadian governments regarding the Alaskan boundary. It is declared that the Canadian ministers have plainly told Mr. Chamberlain that Canada has got to about the end of her tether in the way of making concessions to the United States.
The London correspondent of the pro-Boer Manchester Guardian adds a gloss of its own when it says: "Though Canada had on many occasions not received justice, Sir Wilfrid Laurier thought it possible to preserve friendly relations with the United States, but refused to exercise patience. This is true, but Canadians are beginning to see that patience is required more with the British government which in its soaring imperialism is always obligingly ready to sacrifice colonial interests to an important foreign power, than with the United States. Canadians understand the ways of Americans and can drive a hard bargain if left to themselves."

Bob Edwards' "Eye Opener"

The Educated Lawyer of Hootch; The American Girl's Passion for Titles; Canadians Also Falling

From High River Eye Opener October 1903.

Mr. Bavis is building an addition to his house on Market street to bring it level with the sidewalk. Joe Powell has joined the choir of the Methodist church and sang for the first time last Sabbath evening. The congregation, when last seen, were making for the foothills. The new livery stable facing on Refreshment street is going ahead rapidly, while the addition to the Royal is even now ready for the housewarming dance which is in contemplation.

Charles Hutchinson (Nitchi) has charge of the billiard hall, and being a popular young man and well-known to everybody, is doing a rushing business.

The health of the town is mostly all that can be desired, the few who were on the sick list being all right again. A station agent has been located at Nanton. This should prove a blessing to stray drunks from neighboring burghs who have occasion to wire for more money.

James Stanfield, who met with an accident on the ice New Year's Day is now fully recovered. "Saved, saved!" I cried, "when lo, to my horror her hair came off."

R. W. Kelly has had some trouble with Frank Clayton about a dog chasing his cattle. The matter was settled before the J.P.

Vet. Sergeant Hobbs was down this week on quarantine duty.

Since coming to High River Corporal McIlmoyle has received his sergeant's stripe, and is now Sergeant McIlmoyle. Not bad for a man who has been but five years in the force.

Call at Thompson's for your overcoat and underclothing. He is having a slaughter sale of these goods.

That Lawyer of Hootch

J. B. Cassidy, the well known lawyer of Hootch, Alta., who handles most of the criminal cases of that region, paid a brief visit to Calgary last week, taking in Pantages and a movie or two. Mr. Cassidy has established for himself quite a reputation for prooundity and erudition amongst the drunken boozers around Hootch, by purposely using ornate language in court which none of them understand.

Only the other day Cassidy was defending a man charged with stealing a hog, and proceeded to hand out the following line to the local J.P.

"If you honor please," he said, "I would not for a moment mutilate the majesty of the law nor contravert the avoirdupois of the testimony, but I would ask you to focalise your five senses on the proposition I am about to present to you."

"In all criminal cases there are three essential elements—the locus in

Bank Foreclosures Few in 5 Years

Only One in Which the Farmer Lost His Home; 38 Others After Negotiations and Compromise

In the last five fiscal years there has only been one foreclosure by the banks in Alberta in which the debtor lost his home.

In the same period there were 37 other foreclosures by the banks after friendly negotiations, compromise settlement, by authorization under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act or by the Debt Adjustment Board.

This is the answer to efforts made in Alberta to picture the banks as institutions delighting in depriving people of their homes.

Of the eight banks operating in Alberta, three have had no foreclosures whatever in the last five years.

The 37 foreclosures are classified as follows:

After the debtor had left his farm	10
Land quit claimed to bank	5
Comprise settlements, friendly negotiations	17
Foreclosures under Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, or by permit from Debt Adjustment Board	4
City block on which no interest or principal paid for many years	1 quo, the modus operandi and the corpus delicti. In this case I think that I am safe in saying the modus operandi and the corpus delicti are alright, but there is an entire absence of the locus in quo. I therefore ask for a dismissal of the case."

Millionaires and Titles

Speaking of millionaires, there is a lively shock in store for some of those rich feather-head American girls who have bartered their bodies, souls and dollars for European titles. All titles are to be abolished in France. Titled Frenchmen are to have the pretty handles taken from them by the government. A beastly shame, is it not?

We have not heard if the fathers of these girls are to get a rebate of ten or fifteen percent on the original purchase money, but by rights the titled sons-in-law should refund at least half. The wives themselves could demand compensation from the French government and run a good chance of getting it, too, for will not the goods they bought have depreciated in value? Why certainly!

Among those whose hearts will be broken are Anna Gould, who traded herself off for a consideration to an impecunious young idiot named Count Boni de Castellane; Maggie Mitchell of Oregon, who got staked by her father, Senator Mitchell, and bought the Duke de la Rochefoucault; Carrie Livingstone invested her dough in the Count de Laugier-Villars; Miss Burden blew herself away to the Baron Lepeltier d'Awnay; an ambitious widow wallowing in money picked out a title that would stagger the King of Kings and bought it, becoming the Countess August de Rohan-Cabot; and several others who will be crying their eyes out as we go to press.

We regret to see that a young Canadian woman has recently married an English peer—eighty years of age—after satisfactory settlements had been made. These sort of marriages are virtually immoral. Yet to tell the truth, we would be prepared to marry any old blister who had the shekels. Money talks.

We can give our readers some interesting facts about this case, the marriage of the eighty-year-old Marquis of Donegal to the twenty-four-year-old Miss Twinning. The marquis, through his solicitors, put the rank of peeress for sale in the open market for $125,000 spot cash.

But since this, the original arrangement has been changed to the following: a settlement of $40,000 a year has been settled on the Marquis. Should he live five years his marriage would net him $200,000. Should he live three years, he will have received $120,000 or about the sum originally demanded.

What marital felicity! The wife interested in the speedy death of her husband. The longer he lives the more the loss. We bet the Marquis pays his doctors well to keep him above the daisies.

We confess to a greater admiration for Dickens' Marchioness than for this Canadian one.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Anna Clara McIntyre who went to her rest on October 4th, 1937. Ever lovingly remembered by her husband, children and grandchildren.

"God made a wonderful mother,
A mother who never grew old,
He made her smile of the sunshine,
He moulded her heart of pure gold.
He made her as nearly an angel
As anyone ever could be.
God made a wonderful mother
And he gave that dear mother to me."

The sermon subject next Sunday morning is "The New Canadian Army." This sermon deals with the Christianity from the standpoint of young people. There is a movement among the young people in Canada and throughout the world, the full significance of which it is difficult to estimate. Come and hear what some of our own Canadian young people, on fire for Christ, are doing.

In our adult Bible class we are trying to see how the Bible came to be built up under the inspiration of God. This is a class for seekers after the truth; will you join us?

The evening subject is: "Can Christianity Save the World?" During the past few days the world has been saved for peace. But is it lasting? Has the fear of the future been entirely removed? Have we really got at the root cause of the world's unrest and disorder? Ever since the world began God has had a plan for individuals and the world. Are you satisfied that your religion is daily changing your life for good?

Following the evening service the Young People's Group will hold a reorganization meeting in the Sunday school room. Following the election of officers and executive, plans will be made for the future. A cordial invitation is extended to all young people.

Have you been on a trip? Have you friends from out of town visiting you? Do you know of any happening or of any unusual event that others would enjoy reading about? The Advocate wants the news of the town and dis-

YOUR COUNTRY NEEDS YOU

Perhaps you shrink from these words; and who can blame you? They recall all too vividly the patriotic fervor of a nation in arms and the epilogue of horror and heart-break. But, although the call is more urgent for your help in a crisis, your country needs you just as surely in the cause of peace and progress. If you and your neighbors are prosperous, your country prospers. If you and your neighbors are well informed and progressive, the whole country reaps the benefit.

Greater progress, higher standards of living, better ways of life, are possible to an informed people. It is your privilege to be informed fully on all matters of importance through a free press. Make full use of this freedom, denied in so many other countries. Be informed. Keep a voice in your own government.
